What is Scilab Toolbox Hackathon?

Scilab Toolbox Hackathon is an online, nonstop "Scilab Toolbox Development" based on an established open source software, a competition initiated by the FOSSEE Project, IIT Bombay. It aims at inspiring minds across the globe to build outstanding toolboxes for Scilab.

Who can participate?

Anyone who is well acquainted with software development and interfacing different types of software can do well in this hackathon, if they have as partner(s) people who are knowledgeable about any application area, and with some Scilab familiarity.
